6 Our service

- 6.1 We are an independent insurance intermediary that acts to purchase, arrange, service and administer insurance products and associated services for its customers.
- 6.2 To provide our service, we may act as an agent of the customer or as an agent of the insurer.
- 6.3 We will act as an agent of the customer when:
 - 6.3.1 we provide advice relating to the insurance cover;
 - 6.3.2 we arrange insurance cover;
 - 6.3.3 we provide advice on how to make a claim.
- 6.4 We will act as an agent of the insurer when:
 - 6.4.1 the insurer authorises us to receive and handle proposal forms on its behalf;
 - 6.4.2 we confirm the placing of insurance cover;
 - 6.4.3 we survey and describe the customer's property on the insurer's behalf;
 - 6.4.4 we have the authority to collect premiums and do so;
 - 6.4.5 the insurer authorises us to pay claims.
- 6.5 Our insurance advice is based on your requirements and may include recommendations from:
 - 6.5.1 a range of insurers and intermediaries representing a fair analysis of the insurance market;

8 Payment handling

- 8.1 We will collect money from you to provide our services and to pay premiums. When collecting premium payments, we may treat these funds as either;
- 8.1.1 money held temporarily as an agent of the insurer to pay premiums; or
 - 8.1.2 client money held temporarily to pay premiums.
- 8.2 The basis on which we hold money is determined by the terms of business agreements we hold with each insurer or intermediary.
- 8.3 All funds held for the payment of premiums are held by us in a non-statutory trust account, which is operated in accordance with the rules specified by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA). These rules are designed to protect client funds by maintaining adequate systems and controls to monitor the trust's solvency and protect you against our insolvency.
- 8.4 Monies held in a non-statutory trust account may be used to pay for client premiums before premium payments have been received and to pay premium refunds before insurer payments have been received.
- 8.5 Money held as an agent of the insurer is treated as received by the insurer, who, therefore, becomes solely liable for any loss you may suffer.
- 8.6 We may use other intermediaries regulated by the FCA, and premiums may be passed to those intermediaries to pay premiums to insurers.
- 8.7 By using our services, you consent to the holding of money in accordance with the terms set out in this section, 8. If you do not consent, you must inform us in writing.

9 Cooling off

- 9.1 "Consumers" (as defined in section 4.1) may have the right to cancel a policy for any reason within 14 days of receiving the insurer's policy documents.
- 9.2 We will typically only instruct an insurer to cancel cover upon receipt of written instructions provided by the policyholder or an authorised representative. We may also accept instructions provided by either:
- 9.2.1 a satisfactory e-mail communication from a known or identifiable address of the policyholder or authorised representative; and
 - 9.2.2 a telephone communication and identification verification from the policyholder or authorised representative.

 - 9.3.2 the insurer or intermediary may charge a fee.
- 9.4 In some circumstances, there will be no refund in the event of cancellation, such as for non-refundable insurance policies, on risks and policies where claims have been made, or for any occurrence, event or loss which may lead to a claim.
- 9.5 If a refund is due, we will use reasonable endeavours to provide a full refund where permissible.
- 9.6 You will be liable for any remaining premiums and charges in accordance with the terms of section 9.3, irrespective of the method by which funds may have been paid.

10 Cancellation

- 10.1 You may request the cancellation of a policy at any time throughout the duration of your contract.
- 10.2 We will typically only instruct an insurer to cancel cover upon receipt of written instructions provided by the policyholder or an authorised representative. We may also accept instructions provided by either:
- 10.2.1 a satisfactory e-mail communication from a known or identifiable address of the policyholder or authorised representative; or
 - 10.2.2 a telephone communication and identification verification from the policyholder or authorised representative.
- 10.3 Your cancellation will take effect from the date that we receive satisfactory instructions: it cannot be backdated.
- 10.4 We, or the insurer, may cancel cover, or any part of it, by giving you reasonable notice by recorded delivery post to your last known correspondence address. We, or the insurer, will have a valid reason to do this.
- 10.5 If a policy is cancelled outside any cooling off period (see section 9), the insurer may issue a premium refund calculated based on:
- 10.5.1 the time on cover; or
 - 10.5.2 a rate specified by the insurer or intermediary.
- 10.6 If a policy is cancelled and a premium refund is due:

- 10.7 In some circumstances, there will be no refund in the event of cancellation, such as for non-refundable insurance policies, on risks and policies where claims have been made, or for any occurrence, event or loss which may lead to a claim.
- 10.8 If a policy is cancelled, you will be liable for any remaining premiums and for payment of any charges in accordance with the terms of section 10.6 to the extent that those charges exceed any premium refund due.

11 Our commission

- 11.1 We usually receive a commission from insurers or intermediaries when introducing or arranging insurance.
- 11.2 We do not typically credit or refund any proportion of the commission that we expect to receive for arranging a policy or from additional premiums charged during the life of a policy unless the policy is cancelled before its start date or during a cooling off period. Therefore, any return in premium that we process during the life of a policy will be credited or refunded net of this commission unless we recommend and incept a replacement policy before renewal.
- 11.3 If you ask us to cancel your policy before its start date or during a cooling-off period (see section 9 above), and a premium refund is due to you, we will credit or refund the commission we would have received from the policy in full.
- 11.4 We may also receive a commission for arranging premium finance.
- 11.5 Non-consumers are entitled, at any time, to request and receive information about the commission that we have received.
